THE NATIONAL CONGRESS.

VANCE MAKES THE SENATE LAUGH.

The Montana Case Discussed—Pension Matters Considered by the House.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—[Senate]—In the Senate to-day the Montana election case was further considered.

Mr. Vance spoke in favor of the minority report declaring Clark and Maginnis, the Democratic claimants, entitled to seats. In the course of his speech he told a story of a person who was once schooling a country bumpkin to fit him to be a godfather at a christening. The person asked him what was the outward and visible sign of baptism. The bumpkin, after scratching his head for awhile, answered with an air of triumph, "Why, the baby, to be sure." "And so," said Mr. Vance, "the outward and visible sign of the backing of the republican party will be the Montana twins—not a baby, but a couple of them." [Laughter.]

House.

In the House to-day Mr. Morrill, of Kansas, moved to suspend the rules and pass, with a substitute, the Senate bill granting pensions to soldiers and sailors who are incapacitated from the performance of labor, and providing for pensions to widows, minor children and dependent parents.

Mr. Morrill explained that the substitute provided a service pension of eight dollars a month to soldiers 62 years of age and dependent. The substitute and bill, he said, it was estimated would require an annual expenditure of $75,000,000. After a long debate the motion to suspend the rules was lost—yeas, 169; nays 87—not the necessary two-thirds.

THEY CUT THE LEVEES.

Twenty-Five Desperate Characters and the Floods to Work Destruction.

[By United Press.]

GREENVILLE, Miss., April 7.—Captain Chambers, of the United States mail steamer Checot, arrived here last evening. He says that he saw Captain Tollinger, U. S. engineer commanding the fleet in the vicinity of Arkansas city, and that Capt. Tollinger informed him that about three o'clock Saturday afternoon a band of about twenty-five men, armed with Winchester rifles, came to the Opossum Fork levee and made the guards leave their posts, threatening to shoot down the first one who disobeyed their orders. They cut the levee at that point, and the gap was about fifty feet wide at eight o'clock Sunday morning.

INSTRUCTED.

They Can't Pass Over the Dams up Stream—and Complaints are Being Made—Dam Owners Required to Construct Passage Ways.

Complaints have been received from all along Tar river, at the Agricultural department to the effect that shad cannot be had along the stream, and the complainants state that the reason the fishes are so scarce is that they cannot pass up stream over the numerous dams on the river.

Owners of dams are required by law to construct passage ways for fish, and in response to the complaints, the Commissioner of Agriculture has sent out the following notice:

"Complaint having been made to this department that the dam which you have erected across Tar river obstructs the free passage of fish, you are hereby notified, within sixty days of the receipt of this notice, to construct and place in proper position a sluice-way of sufficient capacity, not to be less than three feet in width, sufficient to permit the free passage of fish over said dam; and that you keep the same open during the months of February, March, April, May, June, October and November, and at all other times when there is sufficient water to supply both the water-power and the sluice-way."

This notice is served under sections 3410, 3411 and 3412, of the Code, which provide that the owner of a dam on whom the notice is served shall be subject to a fine of one hundred dollars per day, for each day over the sixty days mentioned in the notice, that the passage way shall remain unconstructed. The law prohibits fishing in any form within two hundred feet of these sluice ways, and any person who violates this provision is subject to a fine of one dollar for each fish taken.

The Commissioner has served the notice on the following parties: Rocky Mount Cotton Mills; A. G. Vivariet, Sharpsburg; Harris Winstead, Toisnot; Ben. E. Thompson, Toisnot; Noah K. Strickland, Wilson; and the executors of J. T. Webb's estate in Johnson county.

Accompanying the notices the Commissioner enclosed plans and views of fish-ways for the convenience of the parties, but the law does not require the adoption of any one submitted. The owner of a dam may adopt any plan of his own, provided it shall have the dimensions and proportions set forth in the Code.

A HAPPY EASTER.

A Grand and Glorious Scene in the White House Grounds—Ten Thousand Children—and Twenty Thousand Eggs—A Great Ovation to President Harrison by the Little Ones.

[By United Press.]

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Ten thousand jolly, rollicking, tumbling children, and twenty thousand eggs, the children, like the eggs, variegated in color, and as different in size, rolling one over the other in bewildering confusion, was the scene presented in the White House grounds on this Easter Monday morning, and baby McKee was one of the jolliest of the number. No such sight is elsewhere to be witnessed.

It has long been observed here, and Easter Monday is looked forward to by the children of Washington with almost as much interest as Christmas. The day was balmy and bright, the grass green, and the trees in the executive mansion grounds were awakening to the gentle touch of spring, putting out their leaves. All the avenues of approach to the White House were alive with children and nurses and parents. The inevitable baskets, with colored eggs, was an invariable companion. Once upon the ground, without concert of action the little ones roll their eggs down the sloping hills and tumble after them themselves. The music of the Marine band enlivened the scene to-day. At two o'clock President Harrison, his wife and the McKee babies appeared on the White House balcony and were cheered by the vast crowd of prattling, merry children.

THE DURHAM BUDGET.

A FATAL FIGHT IN SMOKY HOLLOW.

Merry Easter Doings—The Courts and Jurors—Other Notes.

[State Chronicle Bureau.]

DURHAM, N. C., April 7.—The usually quiet city of Durham has had some excitement in the past forty-eight hours. In that detestable locality known as "Smoky Hollow," at a late hour Saturday, there was a fight in which Henry Alston was killed. The work was done with a knife and the wound which caused death was inflicted in the abdomen.

The unfortunate man died in five minutes. Dr. N. M. Johnson, our very efficient coroner, held an inquest Sunday morning, and the jury returned a verdict which condemned Minton Chandler to jail, to await the action of a grand jury. A warrant has also been issued for Chandler, and another hearing may result in the discharge of the defendant. It is certain there is at this writing considerable doubt as to who did the cutting.

A beautiful day yesterday witnessed large and attentive congregations at all our churches.

C. B. Green, Esq., by invitation of the Woman's Missionary Society, delivered an address at Carr church last night upon the subject foreign missions.

The city is depopulated to-day. The young folks have gone in every direction; ostensibly to fish, but most of their fishing will be done for the largest tunnows. The county commissioners have been in monthly session to-day, and most of the business transacted has been of a routine character.

[By United Press.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 7.—The House committee on pensions to-day authorized a favorable report on the bill introduced by Mr. Brookshire, of Indiana, granting a pension to Mrs. Della S. Parnell, the mother of Charles Stewart Parnell. The committee reduced the amount of yearly pension from $1,200 to $800. [By United Press.]

The canal is intended as an offset to the Welland canal on the Canadian side of the falls. It is to be twenty feet deep, one hundred feet wide at the bottom and its estimated cost is about $23,000,000.

THE WESTERN METROPOLIS.

The Y. M. C. A. at Asheville—Distinguished Visitors and Their Opinions.

[Special Cor. STATE CHRONICLE.]

ASHEVILLE, N. C., April 7.—The Y. M. C. A. Deputation conference has been in session the last three days. This conference consists of delegates from the leading colleges in the Southern States, and has had with it the two inter-collegiate secretaries of the United States and Canada—Messrs. Scott and Ober. These gentlemen are putting the delegates through a thorough course of training, to fit them for secretaries in their respective States. Messrs. Mott and Ober find it impossible to visit all the colleges in the United States every year, and have adopted this method of lessening their work and increasing their influence among the colleges. They have three sessions of the conference every day, and do good and enthusiastic work.

Since my last, Asheville has been honored by several distinguished visitors. Hon. Abraham S. Hewitt, ex-mayor of New York, recently passed through Asheville on his way to Hot Springs. Mr. Hewitt was unable to secure accommodations in Asheville.

John D. Rockefeller, the president of the Standard Oil Company, recently paid Asheville a flying visit.

On Wednesday of this week Hon. Chauncey M. Depew and John Inman were guests at Battery Park. Mr. Depew, in an interview with a Citizen reporter, expressed himself as well pleased with the South, and says it is the coming part of the Union. He expressed a number of laudations upon Southern industry and push. Mr. Inman is a sociable, jolly good fellow. To-day he was seen loitering upon the streets talking to a number of people in the most good-natured and agreeable style.

Mr. D. S. Watson, a real estate broker has recently had patented a grate, which promises to make a considerable fortune for him. One day last week he was offered $10,000 for the right to sell for ten years, these grates in the Southern States alone.

It may be interesting to some to know that during the past ten months the Asheville street railway carried 300,000 passengers—that is 300,000 fares were collected, being an average of 1,000 passengers a day. What other town with the same population can equal it?

The Western Carolina Bank to-day moved into its new quarters on the West side of Court Place. This bank is in its infancy but has nearly as large a business as either of the National banks.

I wish all the people in North Carolina could be in Asheville now. Truly it is in "The Land of the Sky." No one can appreciate it unless he has once been here.

A good deal of interest is being manifested in the school which Prof. Frye will hold here during the summer. Prof. Claxton has the arrangement of the school and is endeavoring to secure a large attendance. Reduced rates will be granted by the railroads and all North Carolinians have an opportunity to attend the lectures of Prof. Frye and his able corps of teachers.

W. H. Bart for House of Representatives.

[COR. OF STATE CHRONICLE.]

MR. EDITOR:—As the political bees are beginning to buzz, allow me to present the name of a man for the House of Representatives from Wake county—a man who has NOT FAILED, as a farmer, as a cross-roads school teacher, as a full-time preacher, as a ninety day nurseryman, as a princely merchant, as a quick doctor, as a politician or as a bob-tail lawyer, and now seeks a place to "feather his nest." But he is a man who, if nominated and elected, would occupy his position in the Capital, not as a man attempting to make a record upon which he expected to be returned, or possibly boomed for Congress, &c., or a man who would pretend to part of his constituents to favor anything or man, and to another different thing or man, and upon being caught, would attempt to shift the burden by alleging advantage having been taken of him—thereby showing his incompetency and insincerity. He is a man who dares to think, and thinking, dares to speak—a man who favors a railroad commission with all his soul, and he would cast his ballot for no United States Senator who did not favor the sub-treasury plan. This man is W. H. Bart, of Holly Springs township. Mr. Bart is a farmer of the old school, who has raised a large and influential family and is now, as he has always been, in comparatively easy financial circumstances. He is a strong believer in the doctrines of the Alliance, having been a charter member. He is a Democrat of the strictest sect—has always been the foremost in every political fight—ever ready to do all he could for his party. Many a time has he taken his horse from the plow and rode day after day just preceding elections to get every Democrat registered and at the polls—met and fought, in argument, to the bitter end, such radicals as Lashley, Gardner, and Bennett, until now it is his pleasure to say, "there is not a white Republican in my township." Who can present a better man? AGRICOLA.

Election of Vestrymen.

At a meeting held last evening the following vestrymen were elected for Christ church for the ensuing year: Col. W. E. Anderson, Dr. R. H. Lewis, Dr. F. T. Fuller, Capt. S. A. Ashe, Mr. John Ward, Mr. J. I. Johnson, Mr. F. P. Haywood, Jr., Dr. V. E. Turner and Mr. Charles Root.

BUT LITTLE DRY GROUND.

ALL THE STREETS OF A TOWN UNDER WATER.

Live Stock Will Die of Starvation—Traveling Suspended—Much Suffering Will Enue.

[By United Press.]

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 7.—The following account of the overflow in Chicot county has been received from John B. Simms, of Little Village: "The situation here is distressing. There are many breaks in the levee from Lake Village up, and the water in the swamps has risen to within a foot of the flood of 1882. Little dry ground is to be seen. The streets are all under water except front street, and water is running across it. The live stock is buddled upon the high banks and will soon begin to die of starvation. Travel is suspended except by dugouts. The water is still rising. Much suffering is sure to ensue."

NORTH CAROLINA CONGRESSMEN.

What They Are Doing at Washington—Mr. Henderson Moving for the Election of Senators by the People.

[Special Cor. STATE CHRONICLE.]

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Mr. Thomas Skinner has introduced a bill for the relief of Joshua L. Bell. It was referred to the committee on war claims of which the Hon. B. F. Bunn, from your district, is an influential member.

Hon. John S. Henderson has introduced a joint resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, providing for the election of Senators by the qualified voters of the several States. It was referred to the committee on the judiciary of which Mr. Henderson is one of the ablest members. This measure will pass the House without delay. I doubt whether it would ever pass the Senate. The wisdom of it is apparent to anyone who has watched the proceedings of Congress at any time in its history for the last twenty-five years. The Senate needs reforming more than any branch of the government. Senators ought to be held to a more rigid accountability by the people. The only way to do this is to elect them by the method proposed in Mr. Henderson's resolution. The only means by which the Senate can be made to pass the bill, is for the people to take hold of it. Let the people then begin to take cognizance of the matter, and to inform themselves on the subject, so that they may set in the near future.

WHEREAS, We deem it of interest that some steps should be taken toward developing and promoting the culture of tobacco; therefore,

RESOLVED, by the Tobacco Board of Trade of the city of Raleigh, that the plan of organizing a Land Improvement company meets with the hearty approval of this body, and that a committee of five be appointed from the Tobacco Board of Trade to confer with the Chamber of Commerce at its next meeting with a view to encouraging the organization of such a company, as will best promote the interests of the tobacco trade.

THE CITY CHURCHES.

The Easter Services and Collections in Some of Them—Notes of Progress &c.

Easter Sunday was a happy day with some of the city churches. The decorations in Christ church and the Church of the Good Shepherd were gorgeous, but tasteful, delicate and elegant. There were also beautiful floral decorations in Edenton Street church and the Church of the Sacred Heart.

At Christ church were special Easter services, and there was an Easter festival in the afternoon by the Sunday school. The special feature of the festival was the decoration of a floral cross with the motto "Christ is Risen." The cross was of evergreens and flowers. The classes assembled in the church, and each class marched separately from its position, making its missionary contribution and at the same time furnishing one letter for the motto. As the classes supplied the letters, Rector Marshall arranged them on the cross. The last class which marched up—being the infant class—presented a floral cross, and this was placed on the top of the cross, making a richly beautiful presentation of Cross and Crown. The Easter offerings of the morning congregation amounted to $275.

There were special Easter services at the Church of the Good Shepherd, followed in the afternoon by a Children's Easter festival. At this church, the Sunday-school classes decorated a beautiful light-house, with the motto: "I Am the Light." The Easter offerings here were $260.39, independent of the missionary contributions by the Sunday-school.

Rev. J. H. Cordon, of Edenton Street M. E. church, preached an Easter sermon, followed by a free will offering from members of the congregation. The offerings aggregated $510. In the afternoon the Bright Jewels rendered a very delightful Easter programme. There were four accessions to the church membership during the day.

At the First Baptist church the attendance on Sunday-school and church services was very large. A collection was taken for the little children maintained at the Thomasville Orphanage by this school, and more than a sufficiency for the expenses of the month was realized. There were four new accessions to the church.

At Central Methodist church there was one addition to the Sunday-school, and three to the church membership.
